

STORY HUTS

The goal of STORYHUTS is to serve as an intervention in El Dorado Park in Salinas, CA. These story huts are a place where the public can come together and partake in interactive story telling. It promotes and preserves the culture of sharing stories within the Chicana/Latina community.

Four of these story huts will be located in different areas within the park perimeter. Each story hut centers distinct themes that connect back to the common themes explored in traditional Latinx storytelling for a series of age groups.
